

INNOVATIVE SYNTHETIC SOLUTIONS

Eco – friendly - High performance metal working fluids for machining and grinding along with aqueous cleaners for component washing.

METAL WORKING FLUIDS

As a leading global supplier of specialty chemicals and lubricants, Callington strives to develop innovative technologies, which deliver value to our customers.

Our challenge is to develop products which not only provide our customers with process efficiencies and cost savings, but deliver on our vision to ensure our products contribute to long term environmental sustainability.

Our new SYN range of polymer technology based fully synthetic metalworking fluids and Proclean process cleaners have proven to deliver on this vision of environmental benefits and cost savings.

- 🌿 Machining Solutions for Extended tool life & Productivity improvements resulting in lower operating cost.
- 🌿 Grinding Solutions for Extended Dresser life and grinding wheel life for optimized output.
- 🌿 No bacterial growth, no bad odors and without use of formaldehyde release biocides. Safe for machine operators.
- 🌿 Consistent Performance, hence no tank side addition.
- 🌿 Free from mineral oils, hence lower impact on the environment and non-renewable resources.

Mineral oil free, oil rejecting, synthetic metal working coolants

SYN30

Designed for light to medium duty machining applications on cast iron and mild & low alloy steel.

SYN38

For use in centreless grinding, creep feed grinding and other difficult machining operations. Ideal for cast iron, mild - heavy, alloy steel and stainless steel.

SYN85/SYN85MM

Specially designed near neutral pH for aluminium, stainless steel, titanium, nickel alloys and ferrous & nonferrous materials.

SYN90

Designed for difficult operations like broaching, gear cutting and deep hole drilling. Suitable for Stainless Steel, Nickel alloys and Titanium.

Aqueous, alkaline based process cleaners

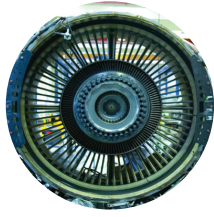

PROCLEAN S30

Non-staining, low foaming multi metal synthetic cleaner. It provides excellent cleaning even at ambient temperatures.

PROCLEAN MW

General purpose multi metal synthetic cleaner. Provides excellent cleaning abilities and bright finishes.
